DESERTED.

Chicago Left to the Even Tenor of Her Ways and Business is Again Resumed.

Hendricks at Home—Butler Not Heard From Yet—How the News is Received.

A $2,000,000 Failure—An Inhuman Father Kills His Daughter and Then Suicides.

For Cleveland.
LONDON, July 12.—The daily News says: "America's foreign relations will be safer in Cleveland's hands than in those of Blaine. The latter represents the American jingo-party, which like the same party here, makes up in audacity and volatility for the lack of numbers. As president Cleveland would cultivate quietude abroad and peace at home. If elected he will be chosen on the ground of more worthy representing the probability of good sense and studied moderation of the American people than Mr. Blaine."

RETURNING TRAVELERS.
CHICAGO, July 12.—There are very few remaining evidences of the democratic convention. The delegates very generally have taken their departure. The club and headquarters' business have been hurried and the hotel corridors have resumed their wonted appearance. On the streets are still to be seen more than the usual number of white hats, which are surrounded with a small feathered rooster, the wearing of which has come to be a sort of rage among the democracy. The members of the national committee and other leaders of the party who are still in the city express confidence as to the strength of the ticket. The delegates generally express great satisfaction at the treatment received at the hands of the local committees in providing for their comfort. Now that the great convention has come and gone it is due to the officers and committee of arrangements that the press should acknowledge its obligations. The remodeling of the hall made an admirable audience room and the facilities granted for making, printing and telegraphing the extensive reports were ample.

Special thanks are due to Judge Wm. C. Conkley in the preliminary arrangements of details and to Hon. Austin R. Brown and Col. Richard R. Bright, the efficient sergeant-at-arms, for the intelligent aid rendered and the just appreciation of the requirements of the press. IN KANSAS.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 12.—The nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks gives great satisfaction here, not only to democrats but independent republicans and especially to Germans.

IN THE WEST.
ST. LOUIS, July 12.—Dispatches from all sections of Missouri and central and southern Illinois say that the nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks was received with great satisfaction and much enthusiasm by the democrats.

FROM NEW YORK.
NEW YORK, July 12.—John F. Henry, president of the national anti-monopoly organization, said to-day: "I have not heard from Butler since Cleveland was nominated but from what he said to me before going to Chicago I am confident he will not support Cleveland. He cannot do it. He has formally accepted the nomination of the anti-monopolists and he also telegraphed me from Chicago Thursday, saying he would never consent to the nomination of a monopolist."

HENDRICKS AT HOME.
INDIANAPOLIS, July 12.—Ex-Senator Hendricks arrived at an early hour this morning and was received with a salute. He remained at his residence during the morning, where he was the recipient of many congratulations from his friends and neighbors. A large number of congratulatory telegrams were also received. Mr. Hendricks declined to answer positively whether he will accept or decline the nomination, saying that it would not be proper for him to discuss the matter until he is formally notified. The general impression here is that he will accept. A ratification will be held this evening, at which Mr. Hendricks is expected to speak.

SENATOR BAYARD.
WILMINGTON, Del., July 12.—In an interview to-day Senator Bayard said he would heartily support Cleveland and Hendricks, accredited Mr. Cleveland with great executive ability and predicted the success of the ticket.

Toinange to be the Wabash Manager.
NEW YORK, July 12.—The receivers of the Wabash will make a general announcement Monday that Vice President Talmage, of the Union Pacific, has severed his connection with that property and will take entire charge and general management of the Wabash system. The court in its original arrangement ordered the receivers of the property to cancel the lease of property to the Iron Mountain and to separate the management of the two properties entirely.

An Inhuman Brutal.
CONROCK, Pa., July 12.—John May, a shoemaker, stabbed his daughter seventeen times and then stabbed himself fifteen times and died. She repelled the unlawful advances of her father.

WAITING

For the Verdict of the People on the Result of Their Deliberations and Convictions.

The Work of the Democratic Convention Completed Last Night at an Early Hour.

Indiana's Favorite Again Called With a Unanimous Voice to Become a Candidate.

Evening Session.
CHICAGO, July 11.—The convention reassembled at 5:15 p. m. General Black, of Illinois, is being mentioned for the vice presidency. It is said neither Hendricks nor McDonald would accept. Vilas and Rosecrans seem to have a good many supporters.

PERSUADING HENDRICKS.
It is said that a strong effort is being made to induce Hendricks to accept the nomination for the vice presidency, in which case he will be nominated by acclamation.

CALL TO ORDER.
The convention was called to order at 5:32 p. m.

TO NOTIFY THE CANDIDATES.
Vilas was selected as chairman to notify the candidates.

5:40 p. m.—The resolution to endorse Morrison's bill for a reduction of duties was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Roll of states for presentation of candidates was ordered, speeches to be confined to five minutes and only one second to be allowed. None of the Tammany men are present this evening.

California presented the name of Rosecrans. Colorado presented General Black, of Illinois. (Cheers.)

THE FINISH.
CHICAGO, July 12.—The work of the convention was finished last night at 7:30 o'clock. The name of Mr. Hendricks was presented for the vice presidency and was seconded by a number of states, all other candidates withdrawing in his favor. Mr. Menzies mounted the platform, but the enthusiasm was so great that for a time he could not be heard. Finally, order being restored, he declared emphatically that Mr. Hendricks was not and could not be a candidate for the vice presidency. He had been authorized by Mr. Hendricks himself to say so. He therefore warned the convention not to do that which it would have to undo.

Mr. Walsh, of Georgia, asked Mr. Menzies if he was authorized to say that Mr. Hendricks would not accept the unanimous nomination of the national democratic convention for the office of vice president?

Mr. Menzies repeated his statement. Mr. Waller, of Connecticut, said that his state had surely no desire to force upon Indiana a candidate against its will, but this was not an Indiana convention; it was a national convention, and the democrats of the country had the right to take a fit man from any state in it. (Applause.) "If any man said he knew that Mr. Hendricks at this time was not patriotic enough to accept a nomination tendered under those circumstances, he would withdraw his name, but with humiliation."

Mr. Wallace, of Pennsylvania, said that Mr. Hendricks had been once chosen vice president and had been dropped of the office. The democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate and would not take "no" for an answer. He moved to suspend the rules and nominate Thomas A. Hendricks as a candidate for vice president by acclamation.

Other speeches were made favorable to Hendricks, when Mr. Weed, of New York, suggested that the roll of states be called, so as to put on record the unanimous vote for Mr. Hendricks, and Mr. Wallace accepted the suggestion. He withdrew his motion to nominate by acclamation, and moved the nominations do closed.

The motion was agreed to and the clerk proceeded to call the roll of states. The result was the unanimous nomination of Thomas A. Hendricks for the candidate for vice president.

Mr. Menzies, of Indiana, asked that that state be excused from voting (loud shouts of "no, no.") He then asked whether there was any name but Mr. Hendricks' before the convention, and on receiving answer in the negative from the chairman, said:

"Then, sir, the state of Indiana casts thirty votes for Thomas A. Hendricks."

This was at the close of the call, making the result a unanimous vote.

THE CHORUS.
The demonstration that followed exceeded in enthusiasm any similar scene that had occurred. All the flags and banners were gathered around the section occupied by the Indiana delegation, and there waved amid the cheers of the large audience and strains of patriotic music from the band, ending with "Auld Lang Syne," the words of which were sung with feeling, the chorus being joined in by several thousand voices. The band struck up "Old Hundred," and all joined in the solemn hymn of praise. This was followed by the song "America," and that again by "Home, Sweet Home." The scene was equally grand and touching. The whole house was a sea of undulating colors, formed by the waving of handkerchiefs of every hue, hats, umbrellas and everything that could be got hold of. The band broke into one unearthly din of "Hail to the Chief."

A number of delegates seized the standards and bore them to the platform where the crowd gathered into a cluster about which were 200 or 300 delegates yelling as if Cleveland and Hendricks were just being passed into the presidential office. After remaining in front of the platform a few moments, the delegates in charge of the standards formed into a procession and marched around the hall, while the band favored the crowd with "The Star Spangled Banner."

Finally the chairman got a chance to make the formal announcement of the vote. He said there had been 316 votes cast, all for Thomas A. Hendricks, and Mr. Hendricks was therefore the candidate of the national democratic convention for vice-president of the United States. (Cheers.)

Resolutions of thanks were passed to all the officers of the convention; also to the reportorial corps and press of the country for their accurate and impartial reports of the proceedings. The chairman, on his own behalf, moved a vote of thanks to the sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Bright. Adopted. Votes of thanks were also passed to the mayor of Chicago and the chief of police, and to the citizens of Chicago for their hospitality.

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE.
The final session of the retiring national committee was held last night and after a short consultation and the expression of thanks to the officers and the citizens of Chicago, it adjourned sine die. The new committee then met and adjourned, without transacting any business, until July 24, to meet at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS.
Thomas Andrews Hendricks was born in Muskingum county, Ohio, September 7, 1819. In 1822 his father settled in Shelby county, Indiana. He graduated from South Hanover College in 1841, and was admitted to the bar two years later at Chambersburg, Pa., after which he returned to Indiana, when he began the practice of law. He was elected a member of the Indiana legislature in 1845, and in 1850 was a delegate to the state constitutional convention. He represented the Indianapolis district in congress from 1851 to 1855, and from the latter year to 1859 he was commissioner of the general land office, having been appointed to that position by President Pierce. In 1863 he was chosen by the Indiana legislature to represent his state in the senate of the United States, where he served on the committees on claims, public buildings, judiciary, public lands and naval affairs. Just before the democratic national convention of 1868 Mr. Hendricks' name was prominently mentioned for the nomination for the presidency, and at the convention which was held in Tammany hall, New York, he received 192 votes to 134 cast for General Hancock. The name of Hendricks-Henry was proposed, when it was seen that the contest between Hancock and Hendricks would be a long one, and the latter was nominated. In 1869 he was defeated by Henry L. Lane for governor of Indiana, and in 1868 by Conrad Baker, but was successful in the race for the governorship in 1872. At the national democratic convention, held in St. Louis in 1876, his name was again mentioned for the presidency, but, as is known, Mr. Tilden secured the place, and Mr. Hendricks was given the second place on the ticket. Since 1876 Mr. Hendricks has attended to his law practice.

The passenger's right to be carried was unquestioned, but the court holds that he had no right to maintain his position. In other words, the man who insisted on his right "induces" the conductor to do wrong.

ALL JOINTLY.

Unbounded Enthusiasm at the Whole Work of the National Democratic Convention—The Ratification Meeting Tuesday Night.

Yesterday morning there was not much enthusiasm, but considerable anticipation in Fort Wayne. When the nomination of Cleveland was announced his friends were exceedingly jubilant, and this again was substituted for expectation when the vice-presidency was being considered. The presentation of names was eagerly followed on THE SENTINEL's bulletin board. Rosencrans was liked, McDonald pleased every one, Black wouldn't do, but when Hendricks was mentioned satisfactory smiles played on the faces of the democratic multitude, while the republicans looked as though they expected to be sentenced to the gallows. As all the nominees were withdrawn and Hendricks given the entire vote, including his own state, a shout went up and hand-shaking and victorious congratulations were exchanged. From that moment on the enthusiasm grew, and about 100 young men went to the south depot last night to greet the American and Randall clubs, who were en route home. The news of the arrival of the distinguished Pennsylvanians soon spread and when the second session of the Pittsburg limited came in, fully 5,000 people were on the platform to greet our guests of twenty minutes. Three hearty cheers went up and were re-echoed from the train with a will. The Philadelphia Weccoco band came out and marched along the train playing national airs, which were nearly drowned by the demonstration of the throng. A speech was loudly called for and Patrick F. Dwyer, of Philadelphia, stepped to the platform and made a ringing speech. The names of Cleveland and Hendricks were greeted with cheers and as the train pulled out Randall and American club transparencies were displayed and on the top of a long pole was a gay cock fastened and whirled high in the air.

Tuesday evening has been fixed for the ratification meeting in the city and a grand stand will be fitted up on the south side of the court house. Local speakers will address the assemblage, the city band will furnish music and the Jeffersonian club and the first voters of the city will make an immense parade. Everybody will turn out and make it the greatest in the history of the city.

TALMAGE THE MAN.

The Recapture of the Wabash Road Name—A. A. Talmage to Manage Their Line—The Other Gentlemen Mentioned for the Position.

There is a prospect that if the recovery of the Wabash road, seek long enough they will finally secure a man to manage their road. They have evidently concluded that they can not induce Mr. J. P. Tucker, of Chicago, to move to St. Louis on their account. Of course they want a man who is fully conversant with the details of railway work in the west, and men are not plentiful just now who will leave a position for an uncertainty. But word comes from St. Louis that the receivers feel certain of having secured a good man, who is well acquainted with the Wabash system, namely Mr. A. A. Talmage, of St. Louis. He was formerly general manager of the Missouri Pacific road, and at present fourth vice-president. It is said that Mr. Talmage has signified his intention of accepting the position.

This afternoon a special train passed through the city westward over the Wabash, carrying Mr. Talmage, Master of Transportation Wade, Superintendent Stevens, Roadmaster Houghton, and other officials of the road, who are on an inspection tour of the entire system.

Upholstered

Parlor

Goods.

We have our frames manufactured expressly for us, and they are made extra heavy and strong. No furniture home in Fort Wayne uses as well and as strongly made frames for parlor suits as we do. Our frames are also considerably larger than those usually found in the market.

We upholster all our own parlor goods,
so we know what they are stuffed with
and that they are well, durable and carefully made. We use only the best materials. If for the sake of a dollar or two you are going to buy a poorly made,
shoddy suit, you need not come to us for it. If we cannot sell you a good suit we don't want to sell you any.

However, our profits are so small and our advantages so great that you will find that usually it will not cost you any more to get a fine suit of us than to buy a much poorer one elsewhere.

Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts are without question the finest of their kind manufactured in the world, and they will eventually be used as a luxury
from one end of our country to the other.
We believe that the sale and use of such pure and wholesome articles should be encouraged. The flavor they impart is as natural as the fruit.

A. B. Davenport, of 387 Fulton street,

"three score years and ten." The reason was that after trying the new rheumatic remedy, Athlophores, he found it to be a renewer of his former vigor and strength, and to enable him to move about with almost youthful activity. "I have been cautious," he writes, "for so long a time in recommending it to others
until I had tried its efficacy in my own case, and I am now free to state the es-

Linda Gilbert praises it. Linda Gilbert, whose benevolent work for prison reform, is known everywhere, says: "I find your most valuable Pond's Extract not only a delightful auxiliary to the bath, but extremely beneficial to any head trouble arising from over-taxed mental conditions, its effect on the nervous system being especially good. I regard it as a great boon to humanity, and need with judgment will alleviate
most of the sufferings that nervous brain workers are subject to." Respectfully, Linda Gilbert.

those pleasant pets, a 'run-round.' The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable and swollen to nearly twice its natural size. A friend gave me Henry's

Burnett's Cassarine will save the hair
and keep it in a strong and healthy condition, because it will stimulate the roots of the hair and restore the natural action upon which its growth depends.
Burnett's flavoring extracts are absolutely pure.

It has wings, yet it flies not—the political crow.

Revolutionize

ored, with SOZODONT, a solvent and radiant of impurities, which effect
their strength and natural whiteness.
The odor of tobacco and that still more offensive one to which impure teeth give rise, is removed, and the gums vitalized
by this fine dental tonic and renovant.

Pretty Women.

Ladies who would retain freshness and

"Rough on Itch."

"Rough on Itch" cures humors, eruptions,
ring-worm, tetter, salt rheum,
frost-bite, chilblains.

There are now over one hundred acres on the southern keys of Florida under cultivation in tropical fruits and early vegetables.

Scots, Slovaks and May Fever.

With the opening of the season of outdoor sports comes the time of trouble for the poor victims of hay fever. For them flowers have no odor, and the summer little or no beauty. To stuff, sneeze and wipe their weeping eyes for three or four successive months—this is their pitiable portion. There is no help in sea voyages,
there is no help in high mountain air.
These only lighten the pocket and leave the disease unabated. But there is a positive cure in Ely's cream balm. Try it. If you continue to suffer it is because you neglect a remedy as sure as it is cheap
and pleasant.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
Sold everywhere.
